P R E F A C E.

THE Uncertainty of ascertaining the Fares of Hackney Coachmen, Chairmen, and Watermen, is undoubtedly the Cause of frequent Imposition. The following Work is calculated to prevent needless Disputes and endless Trouble; it contains upwards of Thirty thousand different Hackney Coach Fares, and by them may be known almost any Fare that can occur; as for Instance, from Charing-Cross to Cheapside and the Poultry, is One Shilling and Sixpence; of course the Fare must be the same from Charing-Cross to King-street, Bucklersbury, Pancrass-lane, Honey-lane Market, and other adjacent Places of the like Distance.

The Fares being given from each Stand, will ascertain an infinite Number of others that are not specified. The Distance is always reckoned from whence the Coach is hired; so that if a Coach is ordered from Charing-Cross to take up a Fare at Exeter Change, the Measurement begins at Charing-Cross, and so in the like Case, wherever the Coach is taken. The Fares are all calculated from the Head of the Stand, so that the first or second Coach should always be preferred, as the Middle or further End will sometimes occasion a Difference. At the End of the Coach Fares are added, very near Two thousand different Hackney Chair Fares, and the whole Rates of Watermen plying on the River Thames; and also, the new Rates of Carmen and Porters, together with Abstracts of the Acts of Parliament relating to each. Whenever a Coach, Chair, or Boat, is hired, it should be always taken Possession of before you mention where you are going, and then, if they refuse to proceed, they are liable to be punished. If more than the Fare is demanded, you may offer whatever is asked, but order him not to take more than his Due, at his Peril; and if he should, you must take his Number, and you will have Redress, by applying to the Hackney Coach and Chair Office, in Great Queen-street, Lincoln's-Inn-Fields, or at Waterman's Hall, near the Old Swan Stairs; but as there are a Number of Watermen in that Neighbourhood, who, with Impunity, frequently insult Persons going to and from the Hall, the best Method therefore is to take a Waterman before a Justice of the Peace, either for Extortion or Misbehaviour, where he will be dealt with according to Law.

to HACKNEY COACHES and CHAIRS.

N. B. Besides the above (which are the common Stands) a Coach may stand and ply in any Street that is Thirty Feet in Width, from Curve to Curve (except St. James's-Street and Pall-Mall) the following Regulations being observed, viz.

That in Cornhill, not more than Eight Hackney Coaches shall stand, viz. Seven between the End of Gracechurch-Street and Finch-Lane, and One between the End of Freeman's Court and Finch-Lane.

In Leadenhall-Street, Three Coaches, between the West End of the India House, and the Passage leading to the Green Market, Leadenhall.

In Cheapside, between the End of Bucklersbury, and the End of Ironmonger-Lane, Three Coaches.

In King-Street, Guildhall, Five Coaches, viz. Three beginning at the End of Trump-Street, towards Cateaton-Street, and Two on the other Side of Trump-Street, towards Cheapside.

In Aldermanbury, Four Coaches, viz. Two in the broad Part, near the Church, and Two at the East End of the Church.

In Fleet-Street, between Temple-Bar and Chancery-Lane, Two Coaches; and not more than One between the said Lane and the West End of St. Dunstan's Church.

All Hackney Coachmen are to take special Care not to place their Coaches on the said Stands, nearer to each other than Twelve Yards, Yards, nor within Twelve Yards of any Cross Street. Any Coachman presuming to place his Coach otherwise than is hereby directed, or exceeding the Number in those Places which are limited, will be fined (as the Act directs) for every Offence, 10s.

EXPLANATION of the TABLES of COACH-FARES.

THE Figures 1, 3, 10, 12, &c. arranged Numerically in each Page, under the different Denominations of One Shilling Fares, Eighteenpenny, Two Shilling, and so forth, are substituted instead of those Names of Places in the following List to which they are annexed; thus, Aldermanbury is represented in the Tables by the Figure 8, Aldgate by 10, Fenchurch-street by 212, Vaux-hall by 682, and so on through all the Streets, Lanes, &c. as expressed in the List.

When a Number is given representing any Street, whether it be long or short, the Fare is meant to extend to any Part of that Street; for instance, where you find 212 under the Article of One Shilling Fares from any Stand, in that Case the Fare is but One Shilling to any Part of Fenchurch-street (the Place represented by 212;) but supposing the Shilling Fare should extend only to that Part of the Street West of Rood-lane, then it would be expressed by 213, under the Article of One Shilling Fares, and the other Parts of the Street, viz. East of Mark-lane, and betwixt Rood-land and Mark-lane, would be given as Eighteenpenny Fares, represented by 214 and 215, the Numbers annexed to them in the List.

When a Street or Lane is divided, according to the Distinction of North Part and South Part, East Part or West Part, each Division is meant to comprehend any Part of that Street or Lane, from the Middle thereof to the Extremity alluded to; thus, 178 represents the South Part of Dean-street, Soho, that is to say, any Part of the said Street, betwixt the Southermost Part thereof and the Middle; and any Part betwixt the Middle and the Northermost Part, is represented by 179.

To find the FARE from one Place to another.

LOOK for the Stand the Coach is taken from, in the preceding List of Stands, which will direct you to the Page wherein the Fares are given from that Stand; then look in the following alphabetical List for the Place you are carried to, and the Number annexed to it, and by this Number the Fare is ascertained, according to the Denomination it is ranked under in the Page of Fares, whether One Shilling, Eighteenpenny, Two Shilling, &c.

E X A M P L E S.

TO find the Fare from the Stand at Hyde-Park Corner to Aldgate; look for Hyde-Park Corner in the List of Stands, which directs you to Page 35, for the Fares from that Stand; in this Page then you are to look for 10 (the Number representing Aldgate, according to the alphabetical List) which you find amongst the Three Shilling Fares, and shows that the Fare from Hyde-Park Corner to Aldgate is 3s.

To find the Fare from the Strand at St. Clement's Church, to Leadenhall-street; by proceeding as in the foregoing Example, you are directed to look in Page 66 for 364, the Substitute for Leadenhall-street; but not finding it, you must again look in the alphabetical List, for that Part of the Street you are set down in; which, if West of St. Mary Aix, you'll find represented by 366, and given in the Page of Fares as a One Shilling Fare; but if to the Eastward thereof, you find it represented by 365, and amongst the Eighteenpenny Fares.

If it so happens, that the Place you go to is not in the List, and consequently not represented by any Number; it is, nevertheless, very easy to ascertain the Fare by that of some adjoining Place of like Distance. Thus, any Fare from the Westward, along Holbourn to Cow-lane, Hosier-lane, or Cock-lane, Smithfield, is determined by that to Snow-hill; to Crown-street, Westminster, by that to King-street; to Hamilton-street, by that to Hyde-Park Corner; and so of numberless others.

If you want the Fare betwixt two Places, both of which are Coach Stands, you must always look for the Fare in the Page belonging to that which comes first in alphabetical Order. Thus, to find the Fare from Hyde-Park Corner to Aldersgate-street, you must look in the Page belonging to Aldersgate-street for the Fare from thence to Hyde-Park Corner; by this Means a Number of Repetitions are avoided.

All the Fares are computed by the nearest Coach Way, according to which the Coachman is to be paid; for if he goes round about, or out of his Way, either designedly or through Ignorance, he has no Right to avail himself of that Plea for increasing the Fare; but it is optional for either Coachman or Chairman to be paid according to Time or Distance, as he thinks proper.

THE FARES OF HACKNEY-CHAIRS,
To or from all the SQUARES and PLACES of public
RESORT in and about LONDON.

EXPLANATION.

To find the Fare from one Place to another, the following Rule must be constantly observed, viz.

That Place which in order of the Alphabet comes first, must be looked for on the Top, and the other on the Side of the Page. Thus, to find the Fare from Leicester-Fields to Guild-Hall, look for Guild-Hall in the Top Columns and Leicester-Fields in the Side; then running your Eye down the Column from Guild-Hall you will find in the Line even with Leicester-Fields, Two Shillings, the Fare sought.

N. B. The Figures in the following Tables are Shillings and Pence.

N. B. The Figures in the adjoining Table, are Shillings and Pence; one Half of which only, is to be paid for a Sculler.

EXPLANATION.

To find the Fare from one Place to another, look for the two Names in the following alphabetical List, and if the same Letter is annexed to each, then the Fare is 6 d. except when directly cross the Water above Bridge, in which Case it is only 4 d. If the Letters annexed to the Places are different, then you must look in the above Table for the Square, which is perpendicular from the one, and horizontal from the other, and in it the Fare is given; as for Example: To find the Fare from Billinggate to Hungerford-Stairs:

Look for the two Names as above directed, and you will find the Letter F annexed to the one, and B to the other; this done, look in the above Table for the Sum in the Square directly under B in a Line with F, which you find to be one Shilling, the Fare sought.

With the like Ease may be ascertained any Fare betwixt Vaux-Hall and Lime-House, to the amount of near 7000.
